

As a result of celebrating the Year of the Dragon, children discussed whether or not such creatures might really exist. The purpose of this independent writing task was to present a balanced argument for and against the existence of dragons. The writing was completed during one session.

Do dragons really exist?

Firstly ~~Some~~ people think that dragons exist because we make medicines from dragons and why did we create dragons and people go to reptile zoos to see the Komodo dragon.

~~Some~~ ^{Some} other people think that dragons do not exist because it's just a mythical creature from China and Wales and we don't see them flying in the sky.

~~Secondly~~ there is a dragon at a zoo and sometimes people summon dragons from the past in ancient China for peace and people celebrate ~~King~~ St George's day for slaying a dragon to save a princess.

Explorers say that they have no sightings of flying dragons because no one has seen them flying high and people in aeroplanes hasnt seen them too.

Finally dragons do exist because we have the year of the dragon and people say if your born on the year of the dragon you have good luck for life.

That is my conclusion.
Whats yours?